

dividable into four rooms with a capacity of accommodating 220 people. The hotel also showcases spectacular outdoor sites for family events or destination weddings.

“We have also just finished a new honeymoon suite, with a terrace and a Jacuzzi,” Tralbal points out, “and we have begun working on a second one. These are beautiful and the first new suites we have built since 2011.”

Zashim De la Cruz, the General Manager, is very knowledgeable about the hotel and its surroundings. He has been working at the hotel for 15 years, beginning at the front desk. He was then promoted to Front Desk

Supervisor while he studied at the University of Puerto Rico at Mayaguez. From there, De la Cruz worked as Night Auditor, Food and Beverage Manager, Director of Sales and Marketing, and was finally promoted to his current position. “When you have the desire to wake up and get to work, not just to earn a pay check but because you love what you do, you then realize this is where you were meant to be,” he exclaims.

His goal is to take the resort to another level. “I want the hotel to continue to be known as the perfect place to disconnect from the hustle and bustle of the city as well as the
